

WHO WE ARE

Centris specializes in working with organizations in transition. Our clients are often at an inflection point and have to surge, merge, or recalibrate. The common theme is the need for a step change in performance capabilities, or the resolution of complex operational or organizational issues. We enable private sector and government organizations make the Strategy, Organization and Operations changes needed to meet challenging performance and financial objectives.

WHAT WE DO

Our specialty is high impact organizational and operations challenges. We began in 1996 with a focus in Fortune 500 manufacturing, engineering, and maintenance. We have deep expertise in these arenas. Today our clients are both private sector and military clients and most of our work is with complex white-collar organizations.

APPROACH

Centris is outcome focused. While thoroughly proficient with enterprise systems, continuous improvement methodologies, simulation, and organization design philosophies, Centris is hired to deliver specific results in a specific timeframe. We employ the methodologies best suited to the task.

TRACK RECORD

Over 80% of our engagements come from repeat clients and referrals which speaks to the results we achieve, and trust clients have in us. Since 1996 we have implemented highly successful projects in many different countries, cultures, industries, and operating environments.

COMMITMENT AND RESPONSIVENESS

Our CEO and executive leadership are involved, accessible and committed to your objectives. We can quickly adjust to changes in priorities and efficiently make the decisions necessary to support your requirements. Quite simply, we provide exceptional expertise on task without the overhead, learning curve, and bureaucracy of many of our competitors.

Consider Centris when there is a compelling need to ...

- Meet and sustain a surge in mission or market requirements
- Implement a merger and meet performance and financial targets
- Re-position the organization to achieve current and future performance requirements
- Improve white-collar workforce planning
- Manage and optimize off-site white-collar activities and performance
- Significantly improve mission execution (quality, schedule, cost)
- Increase readiness, speed, and responsiveness
- Achieve greater reliability, quality, and improved customer satisfaction
- Reduce direct and indirect labor rates
- Optimize personnel, skills, and training
- Improve communication, coordination, and cooperation
- Increase visibility, situational awareness, and proactive management capabilities
